The original location and Opus Number of this organ is unknown. The organ was moved to Sacred Heart Church in Mt. Vernon, New York in 1908 by William F. Smith.

Although the single-fold reservoir held very little air, the organ was roughly playable immediately before dismantling in June, 2018.

The asking price includes dismantling and packing. The organ can no longer be heard, but it was dismantled and packed according to the highest professional standards by the Organ Clearing House.
